Volunteers Set Out To Restore the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse
By T. M. Jacobs

Earlier in the year, during the chilly January and February weather, volunteers gathered at the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse in New London, Connecticut to begin the demolition phase of the restoration project for the famed schoolhouse. Braving the seasonal temperatures to remove two hundred years of debris were: Tim Curtis, Tyler Smith, Kathleen Smith, Ted Nelson, Stephen Shaw, Stephen Marshall, Greg Peck and Fred Rivard.

The restoration process began with removing the plaster from the second floor which Steve Marshall, known as the “Historic House Guy,” said “has sustained some damage due to five moves, and the effects of mother nature.”

A second day at removing plaster from between the lath and debris from the attic space revealed a large squirrel’s nest. It also appeared that the wide planks are likely original to the building and has two main carrying beams with wind braces for added sturdiness.

Built in 1773 on the corner of State and Union Streets, the “Union School” as it was originally known, has become a staple in Connecticut and Revolutionary War history as the schoolhouse where Nathan Hale taught 32 youngsters in 1774 and 1775.

The building functioned as a schoolhouse until the 1830s at which time it was moved to Golden Street and shortly afterward became the Bethel Worship Hall, then a private residence. In 1899, after 8 years of negotiations with the city, it was purchased by the Operation Support Our Troops - OSOT

Operation Support Our Troops is a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting our troops serving in harms’ way. Specifically, OSOT is an organization existing to support our deployed service members in a positive manner, to send goods and letters to boost their morale and supplement their basic needs with a “touch, taste and smell” from home, pure and simple. We are NOT an organization that questions military policy, we are here to SUPPORT our troops of every branch of service in any way we can.

OSOT was founded by parents of West Point graduates. Since it’s inception in Feb 2002, it has grown exponentially ~ but so too has the need. While the vast majority of our members remain the parents of West Point cadets and recent grads, our ranks also include older USMA grads and the parents of some non-West Point affiliated soldiers who are deployed in harms’ way.

OSOT’s target audience: any and all troops, be they Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine, active duty, National Guard, Activated Reservists, officer and enlisted alike. Many of the names on our support list are the names of young West Point graduates, who in turn write, asking that their soldiers be added to the list. The Chaplain’s Corp has also been instrumental in helping us, not only by supplying names of those soldiers with whom they come in contact, but also by accepting our donations and acting as a clearing house so that ALL soldiers can benefit.

Compatriot Dave Perkins and his wife, Pat, have been members of OSOT since Oct 2002. Their oldest
President’s Report

Dear Compatriots,

This will be my last President’s Report for the Newsletter. My year as State President went by really fast. At our upcoming annual luncheon, I will turn over the reigns of the CTSSAR to our President elect, the Rev. Robert G. Carroon. I first met Jerry when I joined the SUV in 1993, and then the SAR in 1995. I know Jerry will continue to keep the CTSSAR at the forefront of Revolutionary War activities throughout the State.

I would like to thank Compatriot Michael Chuckta, Past President of the Silliman Branch, for putting together a GREAT George Washington’s Birthday Luncheon in Bridgeport.

I would also like to Thank the Society’s Committee Chairmen; Timothy Wilkins (Eagle Scout), David Perkins (JROTC), Norman Gilman (Knight Essay), Stephen Shaw (Property) (Nathan Hale Fundraising) for doing a GREAT job this year. I would also like to thank my fellow State Officers for their support, and the CTSSAR Color Guardmen, a group of compatriots I can always count on.

I am happy to report that the CTSSAR Color Guard, The Connecticut Line, is the strongest it has ever been, with nearly 40 members dressed in Revolutionary War uniforms. I would like to congratulate the Putnam, Wolcott, and Huntington Branches for making that possible.

At our last State Meeting I pointed out that we had Branch Color Guard representation in every corner of the State except the Southwest. I stressed the urgent need for the creation of a Branch or combined Branch Color Guard in Southwestern Connecticut, and I am happy to report that members of the Mead and Sherman Branches have stepped forward to accomplish this. This year The Connecticut Line should have Detachments in all four corners of the State.

Looking ahead into the future we will commemorate the 250th Anniversary of the Birth of the Marquis de Lafayette on September 6, 2007, and the society will need to start making plans for October 2010 when Connecticut will celebrate the 300th Birthday of Governor Jonathan Trumbull. Having chaired the 2005 CTSSAR Nathan Hale 250 event, I can say that it is not too early to start planning. As the owners and maintainers of The War Office, the CTSSAR again must take the lead on this important commemoration; for in the words of George Washington, “Except for Jonathan Trumbull, the war could not have been carried to a successful conclusion”.

Our next State Meeting will be our Annual Patriot’s Day Luncheon on April 21st in Plainville. Again, this meeting is OPEN TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE SOCIETY. You do NOT have to be an officer to attend. Members are also encouraged to bring their wives to the Luncheon. We had great attendance at our George Washington’s Birthday Luncheon in February, nearly 40 people attended.

I will close my last President’s Report with more words from George Washington, our Commander-in-Chief and the First of Patriots. “Conquer or Die”, is as relevant today for our society, as when they were first spoken during the struggle for American Independence. They are words to remember in our ever increasing daily battles to keep the American Revolution and its ideals historically correct, NOT politically or revisionist correct.

Patriotically, Todd L. Gerlander, CTSSAR President
son, Dave, and daughter-in-law, Ann, are 1997 grads and their youngest son, Jim, is a 2006 grad. They started sending out packages in the fall when Jim was a plebe at West Point. There daughter-in-law, Ann was deployed to Iraq from March 2003 to 2004, South of Baghdad.

Besides sending to Ann, they have received the names of soldiers through OSOT deployed to Afghanistan, Iraq and Kuwait. Initially, we had sent boxes for distribution through these contacts that had agreed to receive and distribute our packages. Then once a soldier or civilian wrote back to us to thank us, we started to send packages directly to him/her. We keep sending packages to a soldier as long as a soldier is deployed. We’ve had help from schools, scout groups and churches during last winter and spring and we’ve maintained contact with up to 50 soldiers. Some of those soldiers have come home. Some have come home and now returned again, and some are new “names” that we just got off the list for the first time. We feel that sending packages is the least we can do to help all of the troops who are willing to serve our country.

It is humbling to be a part of OSOT ~ the messages received from grateful troops keeps us ever mindful of their needs, and our need to support them ~ to ensure that they know that they are not forgotten. The rules of OSOT are simple, but the very continuation of OSOT depends on each member’s adherence to these rules:

1.) Because security is a prime concern, we NEVER share names/addresses with anyone.
2.) We never give out information about troops to anyone.
3.) All rules for packing boxes will continue as stated:
   * No home-baked goods unless you are sending to your own son or daughter
   * All food items MUST be in their unopened original packages
   * All boxes will be packed and inspected by military family members
   * All postal and custom regulations will be followed.

The reputation of OSOT amongst our soldiers is excellent … They recognize the OSOT labels adorning our members’ boxes, and know that the goodies contained therein will be wonderful and are intended to be shared with all.

Over the past five+ years, OSOT members have worked off a “wish list” that has been comprised of the wishes and needs of our soldiers. We send different items during the different seasons. We focus on the geographic area to which the box is sent, the weather and the degree of “creature comforts” that the troop might have. We also have the capability to handle special requests that may come in from a particular unit, or from one of the Chaplains. We never interpose our wishes upon the troops ~ our purpose is to serve them with what they need, when they need it. We have also been working closely with the Chaplains at Landstuhl Regional Medical Center, and have provided much needed civilian clothing and hygiene products for our wounded soldiers receiving medical treatment.

OSOT members remain steadfast that we must never lose sight of our mission, nor let anything detract us from that mission. We will, in short, be here, as long as they are there ….

Both the Roger Sherman Branch and the Ebenezer Baldwin Branch have been involved in this wonderful effort of support.

On Location

On February 24th in South Glastonbury, Fred Rivard, John Towle & Bonnie, and Stephen Shaw were on location to help with the filming of a new documentary called “... and the Pursuit of Liberty”, which is focused on CT’s role during the Revolution. If we look like we’re cold it’s because we weren’t acting as it was very windy and cold on the Connecticut River.

Eagle Scout Winner

Whomever said that a small state society can’t compete against the big guys can now eat crow.

Charles McBride who is now our Connecticut winner for the third year in a row has won first place against all other Eagle Scouts in the National SAR Eagle Scout Contest.

When the next SAR Congress rolls around in July, Charles will be collecting his prize winning check for $8,000.

Mr. McBride has won before for the Sherman Branch and the Connecticut Society and has placed high each year nationally, but he kept pressing forward and his hard work has paid off.

We congratulate him and his parents who have supported his efforts through the years.

We also want to thank Timothy Wilkins and Don Rowland for working so hard for the Scouts.

SAR, moved to the Ancient Burying Ground where on June 17, 1901 it was dedicated as a museum. The last moved done in 1988 places the structure at its present location.

“The demolition phase unraveled the mystery of what the school looked like in Nathan’s time,” said Marshall. Discovered in the 1773 structure was evidence of dormers on the east side of the house, “perhaps” a second floor fireplace, the original wide pine flooring, the belfry and indication that there was a fire sometime after Benedict Arnold burned the city of New London.

As the restoration continues, more glimpses of what the American Revolutionary War era was like will certainly come to light.
